Comment. Except for the Generalfeldzeugmeister Kaserne, the present confirms the picture on the occupation in Grandenburg as it had been since the beginning of Fay 1952. The abovementioned installation was only partly occupied at the beginning of May 1952 while, according to the present report, it had been more heavily occupied since 22 May 1952 Elements of the 124th Hv How arty Brig (US) presumably returned to the installation by road, possibly from Alteugrabow. Juns similar to those described The observation of the above and having had a caliber greater than 200-mm were also reported from this installation. The observation of with a short barrel which has hitherto not been seen with the guns in Seviet Zone of Germany and which could only be compared to the barrel a heavy trench mortar dating back to Torld War Is is of interest. It is possible that the piece is a new rocket weapon.	25X1A 52 62 63 54 54 552 64 552 652 653 654 655 655 655 655 655 655 655
